

WEALTHMAN.

THE SOLUTION TO UNCERTAINTIES OF CRYPTO ASSET MANAGEMENT.

In wealth management, it is paramount that all transactions with investors' portfolios be carried out in the ultimate secure environment, with guaranteed confidentiality and with clear transparent decision-making processes. The confidence in the service provided by whomever is entrusted to manage the investors' capital has to be unquestionable.

Taking into account all of the above, WealthMan has created the supreme engine for the secure, anonymous and comprehensive crypto-undertakings. We invite you to the world of digital wealth management.

WealthMan is the first blockchain-based platform that provides fast and secure access to the finest tools of both classical and the alternate ways of crypto-portfolio management. In classic wealth management, wealth managers sell their advisory services to high net-worth individuals and earn a percent of the assets under management and a success fee. WealthMan, on the contrary, creates an ecosystem where wealth managers are enabled to transform their own unique methodologies of crypto-asset management into automated algorithms with the help of a team of developers. Programmers convert sensitive intellectual property to elaborate codes bringing human ingenuity into a virtual setting. Thus, comprehensive investment strategies become proprietary algorithms. Each algorithm is a product that the platform examines to measure its validity and efficiency and ranks afterwards. Thereafter, the algorithm becomes available for our investors who can use it to form and rebalance their portfolios. Utilizing our proprietary program interface, they can select and analyze the services offered and benefit from the secure automatic execution of transactions free from the human factor. With the power of the smart contracts unparalleled transparency and rigorous compliance to contract terms are only a matter of a few clicks.

The CEO of WealthMan, Andrei Gusev, says: "There has been a gaping niche in the crypto-capital management ever since the global community first heard about blockchain technology. The time has come to give digital asset holders a refined instrument to unprecedentedly boost their portfolios' performance and gain affirmative investment experiences that WealthMan platform provides".

Our partner, Paulius Stankevicius, CEO and founder of "Stankevicius MGM" is positive about the prospects of the WealthMan enterprise. Paulius sees eye to eye with WealthMan CEO Andrei Gusev as being one of the pioneers in digital wealth management. Andrei Gusev states, "The dawn of financial competence era has come. We live to see the decline of famous wealth management brands that used to be a privilege of well-to-dos. Crypto-assets are a highly advantageous and at the same time obscure to many. WealthMan makes it easy for individuals of any background to leverage their profits using a medium they can trust".

WealthMan aims to raise up to $25 million by summer 2018.
